

We need a vigorous and competing dialogue for the long-term good of the country and the preservation of our representative democracy. The most widespread and diverse ownership of the organs of communication is the best way to ensure that dialogue. Please prevent the formation of media monopolies.